

RULE WITH IRON HAND

Huerta Makes Known That His Policy Will Be Patterned After That Of Porfirio Diaz.

By Associated Press.

MEXICO, CITY, Feb. 21.—That the new administration expects to use the methods of Porfirio Diaz so far as possible in governing the country was made evident by the conservation of Huerta with newspapermen.

The president declared no matter what the cost might be or who paid it, peace would be restored. He calmly and dispassionately outlined his program for the use of the army in restoring and maintaining order. He admitted there are many parts of the republic where all is not in accord with his peace program. To these he will send emissaries and attempt to bring about order and if necessary troops will be dispatched to inform the people of the government's desire. He declared in favor of a free press in Mexico, saying even antagonistic organs were desirable since from them the administration could learn of evils otherwise which would be hidden.

An emissary left today for Saltillo bearing a letter to the governor of the State of Coahuila who is reported as raising an army to fight the new government. Trains loaded with troops are also on their way to Saltillo.

There is an unconfirmed report from Puebla that Juan Sanchez Azcona, private secretary to Madero was executed. He was arrested while fleeing from the country. General Beltran, commander of the Federals at Vera Cruz when Diaz made his ill-starred attempt to revolt will be tried by court-martial for misuse of the white flag. It was charged at the time that Diaz believed Beltran would join him and his men under the flag of truce and allowed to enter the city, when Diaz was seized.

Senora Madero and Senora Suarez wives of the ex-president and ex-vice-president made today their first visit to their husbands. They remained an hour. When they left the palace the women appeared deeply apprehensive of the fate of their husbands.

MONTHLY DIGEST LAND DECISIONS

The waiver of the rights of one prior settler in favor of another vests no right whatever. The rights of such second settler being dependent entirely upon his individual acts of settlement.

Prior to the act of Aug. 9th, 1912, the settlement right to unsurveyed land did not attach to more than 160 acres.

Desert Lands.

An entry may not include lands partly subject and partly not subject to the provisions of the reclamation act. Citing Laurel A. Shell (39 L. D. 502.)

Rule 10 of circular (37 L. 655), providing for amendment of entries, should not be limited to a period of one year from making of the entry. Irrigability of land is the essential feature in entry of arid lands for the purpose of reclamation. If there can be no irrigation owing to grades being impracticable, the purpose of the entry is defeated and works surprise upon the entryman against which he is entitled to relief, if he has used reasonable diligence.

Practice.

Where the local land office has erroneously allowed an entry,—even though the entryman in good faith has spent all of his means in improving the land,—nevertheless the entry should be cancelled.

Though such errors are unfortunate sometimes causing the entryman heavy expense and hardship, questions involving the right to public lands must be decided according to the law and established rules covering the same.

The purpose of rules 1 or 2 of the rules of practice was to insure good faith upon the part of the contestant. A contest should not abate simply because the contestant subsequently becomes disqualified to make entry under that law. Citing Holmes vs. Kinsey (40 L. D. 557).

Mere error of judgment upon the part of a timber and stone applicant in swearing that the land applied for is best fitted for its timber and stone, is not a sufficient ground for refusing repayment under the act of March 26th, 1908, even when it is determined after a hearing that the land is agricultural in character.

Where a timber and stone applicant examined the land applied for within 36 days prior to the filing of his application, a showing of further examination by the applicant is not required.

Where new legislation is passed which may affect pending cases before the Secretary on appeal from the Commissioner, such cases will be remanded to the Commissioner for further consideration under existing statutes.

Mining.

Whether a placer location conforms sufficiently with the requirements with respect to form and compactness is a question of fact for determination by the Department in the light of the showing in each particular case.

Even after a hearing and adjudication that land is mineral in character, the Department still retains jurisdiction to consider and determine the character of the land claimed under the mineral laws until deprived thereby of the issuance of patent. Citing Searle Placer (11 L. D. 441).

The fact that land has been adjudged mineral in character would not dispense with the necessity of making a discovery as a basis for location and mineral patent.

10-STAMP MILL IS BOUGHT BY THE CLIMAX

(From Friday's Daily.)

That the Climax Mining Company contemplate treating a large tonnage of ore in the near future, is evident from the purchase that has been closed for another plant, the Reed Mining Company selling their ten stamp mill recently that is situated on the Hidden Treasure mines near Turkey station on the Bradshaw railroad. This purchase also includes two 60-horse power boilers, the hoisting plant on the mine, 50,000 feet of unused lumber on the ground, a complete assay office, a 3,500 pound scales, 2,000 feet of rails and a miscellaneous amount of other machinery, all practically new.

The plant will be added to the ten stamp equipment on the Climax property, which will afford facilities to handle a very large tonnage of ore in the future. Development goes ahead vigorously at the Climax, and from reports received the determinations are satisfactory. Three Burleigh drills are cutting into rich shoots, and already there has accumulated a sufficient tonnage to keep twenty stamps running for many months ahead. The outlook is decidedly encouraging for a big producer to be established.

WILL OPEN ON TIME.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—It is just two years to a day before the official opening date of the Panama-Pacific exposition. President C. C. Moore has issued a statement showing that twenty-eight foreign nations have accepted the invitation to participate and that the exposition will be ready before the date set.

WESTERN MAN IS WANTED FOR HUSBAND

Beloit Girl Cannot Find Mate in East To Her Liking

Step up boys, here is your chance, but don't crowd.

A fair damsel in Beloit, Wisconsin, wants a hubby and while the Journal-Miner is no matrimonial agency, it responds to the Macedonian cry, and publishes the appeal of the lady who cannot find a mate to her liking in the East. Here are the requirements and if you are matrimonially inclined and can measure up to them just confide the fact to paper and mail the same to the address given:

"Beloit, Wisconsin:
"Prescott Journal-Miner:
"I want what the women call a hubby. A girl can't find a good one in the Eastern States. Would like to know if there was a nice young man, or a cowboy that wants a wife. If there are, write to "MISS A. K.
"862 3rd Street,
"Beloit, Wis.

"P. S. If anyone that drinks booze or is older than 25 needn't apply."

For the benefit of Miss A. K. it may be stated that Yavapai county is full of cowboys and nice young men of 25 summers or thereabouts, but it is doubtful if many of them can be found leading a Bible class on Sunday. While none ever indulge to excess their investigations lead them to explore the glass to the bottom to see if the advice given by St. Paul contains merit or not. They have even been known to follow the example set by our illustrious president-elect and say "damn" on occasions. Raised in the environment of the effete East Miss A. K. might be shocked and disappointed with the breezy manners of the Westerners, hence the explanation.

Seeing that the lady is so particular as to her choice of a man it might be well for any aspirant for her hand to ask a few questions and we would suggest the following:

Are you good looking?
Are you a good cook?
Have you ever been married?
Do you chew tobacco?
If your cowboy husband was compelled to spend the night away from home rounding up a stray steer, would you greet him upon his return with a kiss or a club?
Are you a Progressive?
Can you live on love and $45 a month?
Will you?
What is your income?
If none, state whether you have any rich relatives in failing health?
Do you think you could support a husband?
If not why do you wish to get married?
Have you enough money to pay your fare out here?
Do you believe in woman suffrage?
Are you well-informed and well formed?

Many other questions enter into a proposition of this grave character which could be taken up in private correspondence such as the probability of passing eugenics examination as provided by a law now pending in the legislature. But such things can be left to those who seek to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by Miss A. K.

ONE WAY TO PUT AN END TO RAGGING

SPOKANE, (Wash.), Feb. 19.—William C. Morris, the well known cartoonist for the Spokesman-Review, "started" something which somebody else "finished" when he put out a cartoon suggesting that girls wear spiked belts to prevent "ragging" at dances.

Two days later Mrs. Elva T. Hunt gave a dancing party in Carr's auditorium. She had provided a number of leather belts, pierced with 20-penny nails. To show that she meant business Mrs. Hunt ordered the orchestra to play the "raggiest" piece in stock, then announcing that girls who insisted on dancing after the too-popular fashion must don the belts. The announcement proved to be as the red rag to the bull. The outlawed dancing became general, and Mrs. Hunt fitted every girl in the party with a belt. An enterprising newspaper photographer arrived on the scene, and the Morris intirragging device is now the topic of the hour.

SEEK BETTER TERMS.

BOGOTA, Feb. 21.—Newspapers here declare that the Colombian government has refused the proposed settlement of the dispute between the United States and Colombia over the partition of Panama, which, they say, has been offered by the Taft administration. It is asserted that Colombia expects to obtain better terms from the incoming administration.

POLICE SAVE MRS. PANKHURST FROM HARM

Greeted at Meeting With Groans, Hisses, Yells And Cheers

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mrs Emmeline Pankhurst who declared she was responsible for the dynamite explosion which recently wrecked the home of David Lloyd George was greeted with groans, hisses, yells and cheers at a meeting in Chelsea town hall tonight and only a large force of police prevented the hostile section of the audience from attacking her.

When she left the hall Mrs. Pankhurst twitted the authorities for being afraid to take advantage of her assumption of responsibility for the dynamiting and send her to jail. She declared that short of taking life the suffragettes would do everything possible to settle once and for all the political status of woman in this country.

THE TAX ORDER IS OBJECTIONABLE

(From Friday's Daily.)

The recent order of the State Tax Commission, fixing arbitrary standards of valuation on certain classes of property in the State, came under fire at an executive meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night and it was resolved:

"That the Prescott Chamber of Commerce goes on record as being opposed to the fixing of arbitrary standards of valuation of property for assessment purposes by the State Tax Commission; and, that it recommends the assessment of all property within the State according to its actual value, in accordance with the State law and by the county assessors."

At the regular session, the meeting was enlivened by the presence of a large and influential delegation from Humboldt, Mayer, Turkey and others towns in that section of Yavapai County. These citizens pleaded that the construction of a road to Phoenix via Black Canyon and from the Kay Copper Company's mine to Turkey station, on the Santa Fe, receive proper and effective consideration.

Joseph Bark, Henry Heffelman and others of the delegation presented their case strongly and were supported almost unanimously by the members who spoke for the Chamber. President Drake struck the keynote when he said that Arizona needs roads now and that the only apparent course through which to secure them is by bond issue.

The visiting citizens were in hearty accord with this sentiment, and, upon motion of Chairman of Roads and Boulevards Committee Norris, a resolution, to be sent to the Legislature today, was adopted, recommending to that body a state issue of bonds for the construction of roads connecting the proposed State Highway system, with the county seats of the several counties. The amount named in the resolution was $5,000,000 and it was further recommended that the constitution of the State be amended for that purpose, if necessary. This resolution endorses that recently presented to the Legislature by the Arizona Good Roads Association.

In lieu of possible failure of early action on the State bond issue proposal, E. S. Clark moved that a committee be appointed to investigate and report immediately as to the feasibility and practicability of issuing county bonds for the construction of roads in Yavapai county.

President Drake appointed as this committee the following: Messrs. T. G. Norris, E. S. Clark, LeRoy Anderson, R. N. Fredericks, H. W. Heap, J. I. Gardner and F. L. Harworth. This committee will meet at the Chamber tonight at 7:30 o'clock and a report of its findings will be presented to the board of directors at once. Jos. Bark, for the visiting delegation, stated that he was in hearty accord with the measures proposed in both resolutions and predicted that the county issue would pass by an overwhelming majority. He thanked the Chamber for hearing his delegation and for the neighborly understanding reached at the meeting and was assured by the Chairman of the pleasure given the Chamber by the visit.

Much of the time at the regular meeting was given to the discussion of tax matters. Assessor Thomas

ARE TO BUILD REAL NOAH'S ARK

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A real Noah's Ark of approximately the same size as the original of the Old Testament, containing animals in great variety and capable of navigating any seas, is the unique plan of a company which has become public here. In reality the ship will be a huge marine circus.

The plans provide for a ship with a length of 525 feet, corresponding as nearly as may be to that of its prototype; a beam of 80 feet, a trifle less than the supposed width of Noah's ship, and a depth from awning-ridge to keel of a little more than 50 feet, or about the same as its original. Her lines will be those of a first-class freighter of from twelve to fifteen thousand tons and like several of the latest ships of its class, she will be fitted with oil engines in order that space and fuel may be economized and funnels dispensed with. This will secure a perfectly uninterrupted view in the arena.

In the lower hold, anti-roll tanks will be placed in position to lessen motion in heavy seas, and there will be oil reservoirs, machinery and engine rooms, and store rooms in addition to water tight compartments, while a double skin and bottom will make the ark practically unsinkable and uncapsizable.

The lowest deck will provide quarters for the various side shows, for an aquarium, aviary and hospital for man and beast, and a menagerie of splendid proportions from which there is to be a sloping roadway up to the arena deck for the use of the animals when a show is being given or for deck parades. The chief interest of the ship will be on the arena deck. The deck houses in which traveling performances will be accommodated, will, when the ship is at sea, present no appearance of any peculiar character, but when a performance is to be given in port these houses will be pushed out until they overhang slightly and then there will be an available arena 350 feet by 125, surrounded by twelve tiers of seats and capable of seating upward of 7500 persons. The incorporators say that they intend to begin building at once.

JUDGE GOFF IS SUCCESSOR TO WATSON

CHARLESTON, Feb. 21.—Nathan B. Goff, Judge of the Federal Court of Appeals, a Republican, was elected senator this afternoon to succeed Watson, the Democratic incumbent. His election broke the long deadlock only after two appeals had been made by Governor-elect Batfield for harmony during the Republican caucus, and the fact this was the last day of the session. The caucus lasted all night and many members failed to go to bed. The six Republican members, recently indicted for having accepted bribes, did not vote. Judge Goff announced he would resign from the Federal bench immediately.

GOOD RACING IS ASSURED FOR SPOKANE

SPOKANE, (Wash.), Feb. 19.—Spokane will have the best horse racing in its history this fall as a result of an agreement reached by the North Pacific Fair association at its annual meeting in Salem, Oregon. The Spokane Interstate fair, the annual fall harvest festival and racing meet, was dated for the week beginning September 15. Thomas S. Griffith, president of the fair association, says arrangements were made at the meeting for excellent race programs throughout the Pacific Northwest, adding: "We will get the best horses from Helena, Mont., North Yakima and Vancouver, Wash., Vancouver, B. C., and from the California and Canadian circuits." The Spokane Interstate Fair and the Pendleton Roundup, having been set for overlapping dates, an effort is being made to effect a change to prevent a conflict of dates.

YOUNG ENGINEER IS SHOT BY REBELS

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Among the Americans residing in Mexico reported as seriously wounded is Frank H. Link, a mining engineer. He was en route to the city of Mexico from Puebla, and was shot by rebels accidentally, it is alleged. His wounds are reported as dangerous, and according to telegraphic advices it is believed he will not recover.

After graduating from the Golden School of Mines about two years ago this young engineer devoted about three months toward making observations of this mineral field, leaving later for the southern part of the state, and later going into the interior of Mexico. At the time of his misfortune he was with an American mining syndicate near the city of Puebla, in a consulting capacity. He is about 25 years old, and made a favorable impression among many in this section.

Campbell gave a fine exposition of the position in which the Yavapai County taxpayer stands today and was plying with questions on every phase of the subject. The meeting did not adjourn until after eleven.

STEDMAN DENIES THAT HE GAVE INTERVIEW

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Irresponsible newspaper men, when given a little latitude, sometimes cause a great deal of trouble. One of the Phoenix scribes can certainly be classed in that category for while Marshall Stedman, financial manager of the local company of Selig Polyscope players was in the capital city last week taking views of the Aztec Sun Festival and the ostrich farm, a reporter got offensively gay and printed a story in which Mr. Stedman was made to say some harsh things regarding Prescott.

Mr. Stedman is authority for the statement that as far as he knows he did not see any of the newspaper tribe while in the southern city and he is most emphatic in his declaration that he was not interviewed nor did he say the unkind things attributed to him. On the other hand Mr. Stedman, even before his attention was called to the fake interview had written directly to Mr. Selig and assured him that no better place could be found in the entire Southwest to film western pictures than right here in Prescott.

The incident is most regrettable as Mr. Stedman likes Prescott and up to the time of the appearance of the article in question the feeling was reciprocated by the people of this city. Now that he has denied the utterances attributed to him, and his denial is sufficient to brand the published story as false, the entente cordiale is once more effective and in fine working order.

Mr. Stedman voluntarily made the following statement for publication last evening:

"I was much surprised upon returning from Phoenix to see in one of the Phoenix papers an article written as an interview with me regarding the relative value of the two towns for picture purposes. No newspapermen called on me while I was in Phoenix nor did I call at any of the newspaper offices, nor did I give any interviews for publication. I cannot understand how I could have been quoted in that manner. My feelings regarding Prescott are the warmest and I absolutely feel that for the truly western pictures Prescott is head and shoulders above any town in which I have had the privilege to stay."

"MARSHALL STEDMAN."

JOURNAL-MINER IS OFFICIAL PAPER

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The Journal-Miner will be the official paper of the county for the coming year, the Board of Supervisors having awarded it the contract after holding the matter in abeyance since February 3. When bids were opened on that date, E. A. Rogers, of the Courier, was the lowest bidder, but the question arose as to whether he could lawfully hold the contract, as he is a county official and expressly forbidden by law from being interested directly or indirectly in any county contract. The matter was referred to County Attorney O'Sullivan who after a thorough examination of the statutes and the authorities, informed the Supervisors, that the law was plain and could not be evaded, and that the only qualified bidder was the Journal-Miner. After reflecting over the matter for several days, the Supervisors finally made the award as above stated.
